DIRECTOR'S NOTE

I have learned so many lessons during the process of bringing The Addams Family to the stage. Patience, determination, empathy, forgiveness, teamwork and did I mention patience? Trying to mount a production in the midst of an ongoing pandemic presented us with obstacles that at times seemed insurmountable. However, the show must go on and with the hard work of everyone involved, go on it did.

The show itself also has many lessons for us all; be yourself, celebrate differences, compromise and be true to who you are. These are all great reminders and a message I am proud to say this cast truly embodies. I couldn't ask for a better group of young people to work with. During the rehearsal process we have grown together. The memories created during this process are ones that I hope they hold dear for years to come.

I would be remiss not to acknowledge our grade 11s, some of whom have been with me since my directorial debut in 2008. Since our musicals are biennial this will be their last. They have been an integral part of our musical family and my life. I can only hope they have enjoyed their experience as much as I have.

Finally my thank yous; to be honest there is no way to truly express my gratitude to the people who made this possible. Diane, you have gone above and beyond during the process and there is no better teammate I could ask for. To all of the MVBTC & community volunteers, alumni who have returned to help out and student volunteers - I have said it before and I will say it again, it takes a village and I am so proud to be a part of this particular one. The time you have dedicated to make the cast look and sound great does not go unnoticed. Parents of the cast, thank you for allowing us to borrow your children for so much time, they are a delight to be around. Last but certainly not least my family, directing a show takes up a lot of brain power and time. I appreciate you picking up the slack and catching balls that I have dropped along the way. I love you, and you will never know how much I appreciate your support.

Now sit back, relax and enjoy an adventure of love and laughter. It is our pleasure to present The Addams Family!!
